STUDENT RACE FOR PRESIDENT WILL BE KEEN

CAMPAIGN FOR HEAD OF STUDENT COUNCIL IS TAKING FORM—MANY WORTHY CANDIDATES.

Before the last student had registered for the fall quarter the student politicians were already busy at the job of picking out the possible nominees for the presidency of the student council and the vice president of the same organization. Oftentimes there is a shortage of good presidential and vice presidential material and several times men have been nominated and elected to both offices by acclamation. That such strength can be demonstrated by one single man this year is very unlikely.

The great trouble seems to be that there are too many outstanding men on the campus who might accept the job but who coyly disclaim any intention of seeking the position when interviewed. Two or three of the candidates already have organizations functioning in their behalf.

The leading presidential possibilities seem to be Russell Noblet of Graham Wallace Culver of Maryville, Clarence Woolsey of Braymer; and Raymond Mitzel of Sedalia. These students all have enviable records in some field or other, Noblet having distinguished himself on the public platform, in the student council, as last year's vice president and at the present time in acting president of the council.

Culver is well known in Maryville for his work in politics and is one of the best speakers on the campus as well as an excellent student. Woolsey has put Braymer on the map since he first came to College by his distinguished scholastic record and the able way in which he managed last year's Tower, the College annual. Mitzel has established his popularity by his splendid athletic record and last year was the winner of the Howard Leech Medal for athletics and scholarship. All the four men are members of the senior class. Noblet and Woolsey belong to Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity while Culver and Mitzel are not members of a fraternity although they may run with fraternity backing.

The fight for the vice presidency has not resolved itself into a clear fight yet and will depend a great deal upon the men who are nominated for the presidency and by the other campus political leaders and groups.

Constantly rumors of trades and deals are heard between the fraternities and various independent groups. Usually the rumors are promptly denied and new tactics and new conferences are called. This promises to be one of the most interesting and entertaining political battles ever fought on the campus.

TARKIO BOYS HELP IN GOSPEL PROGRAM

Five members of the Y. M. C. A. at Tarkio College were guests of the Y. M. C. A. gospel team of the College here on the programs given Sunday in Gallatin and Savannah. The group of fifteen left here at 7 o'clock in the College bus and went to Gallatin for the morning service. The evening program was in Savannah.

All the music on the program was furnished by the Tarkio guests. The numbers included quartet selections, vocal solos, and piano solos. The Tarkio men in the group were Marvin and Delbert Sterrett, Leland Warren, Cleo Hughes, and Vaughn Manners.

These from the College here who appeared on the program were Clyde Sparks, Wallace Culver, Walter Allen, Hubert Harris, John Shannon, Mr. Goodman, Warren Crow, William Mzingo, and Herbert Brown.

The gospel team will make an additional trip this month over its regular schedule of one trip a month. Sunday the team will be in Lenox and Bedford. Junior Porterfield, pianist, and the Y. M. C. A. Quartet will furnish the music.

A student Directory of the College is soon to be published in the Northwest Missourian. This fall the directory is not to be published in book form according to a recent announcement by President Lamkin. Students and others who care to do so can clip the names and addresses from the paper and arrange in book directory form for convenience.

FACULTY MEMBER GIVES REPORT ON RECENT MEETING

DR. MEHUS TELLS OF RECENT RACE RELATIONS CONFERENCE AT NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE.

Dr. O. Myking Mehus of the Social Science Department has an article on "Southern Educators and Race Relations" in the latest School and Community Magazine for September. In this article Dr. Mehus gives a report of the second annual conference on Education and Race Relations that he attended last July in Nashville, Tenn.

The conference was attended by over sixty Southern educators from sixty Southern colleges and universities from thirteen Southern states, according to Dr. Mehus. The sponsoring committee consisted of leading Southern educators like President Bruce R. Payne of Peabody College and Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of the Atlanta Public Schools and former president of the National Education Association.

The purpose of the conference was to gather together men and women from the Southern educational institutions to consider the problem of race relations as this problem is found in the South, and to discuss the opportunity and obligation of Southern educational institutions in making constructive contributions to the solution of this question.

Reports of the work done during the past year in the various colleges were given. Of special interest was the report given by President H. L. McAlister of the State Normal School at Conway, Arkansas because of the thoroughness with which the work was done throughout the whole institution there. A special course had been given in the Sociology Department, and in addition to this it had been discussed in all classes in the Training School and in other classes in the college. Negro poetry was studied in the English classes, Negro spirituals in the Music Department, and Negro art in the Art Department. In the English composition classes a large number of compositions were written on various phases of the race question. Extension classes were given for Negro teachers. These classes were taught by members of the regular college faculty and some county superintendents. A class in Race Relations was taught in one of the Sunday schools by the head of the college Social Science department.

The Committee on Findings and Recommendations, of which Dr. Mehus was a member, recommended to the conference that a course in Race Relations be taught in every Southern college during the coming year and that a definite study of Race Relations be made in various departments in addition to having a specific course given in the Sociology Department. It was also recommended that a meeting be held in each of the Southern states to discuss with the college presidents the teaching of Race Relations in their institutions.

Those who desire a complete report of the conference or additional information on the question of Race Relations may secure it by writing to the Commission of Interracial Cooperation, 703 Standard Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Spring Rain In Summer.

Against the gray July sky,
Slick green of faintly rustling corn
Just tasseled:
Around a blackened stump,
Dull green and milky white
Of dusty and miller:
Over the weathered sides and rain
Soaked shingles
Of a dejected cabin,
Flame flowers of a trumpet vine
Blare forth their joyous notes.

BEARCATS TIE GOLDBUGS IN FIRST BATTLE

TEAMS UNDEFEATED LAST YEAR PRESERVE UNBLEMISHED RECORDS; SCORE IS 0 TO 0.

Using a well-timed, clean-cut passing game, the Bearcat eleven held its own against the Oklahoma City Goldbugs last Thursday night at 8 o'clock in Social Hall. The guests of honor were freshmen and other new girls of the College.

The girls spent the first half hour in becoming acquainted with each other. Each girl was identified by a slip of paper on which was written her name and the name of her home town. Later many games were played.

An interesting dress up contest was held with Miss Leona Haselwood representing the new girls and Miss Martha Louise Stucki representing the older girls.

The entertainment of the party was concluded with a pantomime, "Pokey Huntus," in which the following girls took part:

Lucile Leeson, Rose Graves, Marceline Cooper, Martha Louise Stucki, Anita Aldrich, Christine McMillen, Gladys Cooper, Faye Sutton, Ruth Van Sant, and Katie Halley.

Following the pantomime, refreshments were served.

Eudora Smith and Lucile Leeson were in charge of the games. The party committee was Rose Graves, Christina McMillen and Faye Sutton.

The outstanding run of the game was executed by Hodgkinson for fifty-five yards. In the customary Bearcat fashion, Sloan helped garner the honors of the day by showing the Goldbugs what happen to a safety who stands closer than sixty-five yards to the line of scrimmage while the opposition kicks. As regularly as he was called on, Sloan gave the ball a mighty boot. All in all the boys proved their worth.

The starting line-up:

Backfield: Milner, Parker, Hodgkinson, Phelps.

In the line: Ruth, Sullivan, Dunham, Rice, Hedge, Sloan, Shelton.

Substitutions: Curley for Milner, Smith for Dunham, Cronkite for Rice, Jones for Shelton, Furse for Hodgkinson, Furse for Parker.

DATA IS SOUGHT FOR ACTIVITY SCHEDULE

This information will then be tabulated and printed for the convenience of the College students. Frequently students set a date or place for a meeting only to find that some other organization has selected the same date or place for another meeting.

WILL OUR NATION SURVIVE?

History reveals the fact that nations or civilizations have advanced or succeeded in surviving only when they have sponsored the advancement of four institutions, namely, the Home, the Church, the State and the School. If we desire the advancement of civilization or if we actually want our nation to survive, it might be well, in the light of history, for us to check up on ourselves and see if we are helping or hindering.

Some of us are so busy apparently trying to help advance one of the above institutions, that we selfishly fail to see the chaotic condition and the need of our help in another one or in all three of the other institutions mentioned.

COLLEGE POLITICS

The open season for the college politicians will soon be at hand and the student elections will be held. Sometimes campaigns are marred by bitterness and strife of a personal nature. The reaction from a campaign of this type is always bad for the student body as a whole and the individuals particularly. The student elections should be taken seriously but not too seriously. There will be many outstanding candidates offered for your approval and all students in the college will possess the right to vote. This right should be exercised as it is your duty to do. If students will not take an interest in their school elections what can be expected when they are given the ballot to use in their national governmental affairs. In the past almost one-sixth of the student body have failed to vote at school elections. Much interest should be aroused in this campaign for candidates of outstanding ability and achievement will be nominated, many of them with definite programs of action. The students should give a careful ear to all the details of the campaign and then cast their ballot according to their conscience and their judgment. In that manner, and that manner only will the election of the best candidates follow. Students in college must accept responsibility while there if they expect to occupy places of responsibility in life. Student government is one of these responsibilities and everyone must do his part.

WILBUR HEEKIN.

STROLLER

The Stroller interviewed the Freshmen to get an idea for this column this week. When the comments of the group were added the following answer was derived:

First Freshman: (fanning with his green cap and smoking a big pipe like Dr. Hull's): "All I've got to say is, I wish I had lived back in the good old days when men were men and women were women and they didn't have 'Intelligence Tests' or what you may call 'em, at M. S. T. C."

Second Freshman (mopping perspiration from his brow) "You mean endurance tests," "And I hear there is a follow-up to this war.???"

The freshmen are not the only sufferers when it comes to the so-called endurance tests, the Stroller has discovered. Some of the faculty members and advanced students who were chosen to check the papers are now in the early stages of nervous prostration it is reported.

Any of the students in Miss Shepherd's Education 125 class who are inclined to take life as easily as possible have cause for rejoicing in the fact that someone seems to have burned up nearly all the textbooks for that course.

The Stroller chanced to learn last Friday that there are several instructors who believe firmly in "rugged individualism." When the class bells were ringing about twenty minutes too early, these teachers did not give way to the mob spirit and dismiss their classes, but grimly held out until the hour was truly gone.

During a heated argument, in the hallway, as to which was the more phlegmatic individual, Delbert Cook or Russell Wilson, some of the freshmen were seen to sneak quietly away to find a dictionary.

Alma Mater

(Learn It)

Let your voices loudly ringing,
 Echo far and near,
 Songs of praise thy children singing
 To thy mem'ry dear.

Chorus:

Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
 Tender, fair, and true;
 Grateful sons with love unfailing
 All their vows renew.

Years may dim our recollection,
 Time its changes bring,
 Still thy name in fond affection,
 Evermore we sing.

Chorus:

Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
 Tender, fair and true;
 Grateful sons with love unfailing
 All their vows renew.

False Star

First bright star
 In the twilight haze,
 Why do you torture us
 With the promise of a wish fulfilled,
 And leave us disappointed.

—By Grace Westfall.

E. L. Kelley, of the faculty of the Commerce department of the College, has adopted new textbooks for three of his classes. The classes are in elementary accounting, advanced accounting, and marketing.

LOVERS OF POETRY
PRESENT MAGAZINE

Poetry, a Magazine of Verse, edited by Miss Harriet Monroe, of Chicago, is on the shelves of the college library because a group of poetry lovers collected the money for the subscription. The work was started in the class in contemporary American literature but other students, hearing of what was being done, begged to be allowed to contribute.

This magazine has been in existence for the last twenty years and has introduced to the reading public many poets who are now named as the best of the contemporary writers. This year it is finding it hard to continue publication, but many lovers of modern poetry are rallying to its support. It has been announced that if every public library in the country that should have the magazine were to subscribe, the financial problem would be solved.

Miss Monroe wrote a charming letter acknowledging the subscription sent in by the students.

SURVEY IS GIVEN OF RECENT S. T. C. ENTERTAINMENT

ONE OF MOST IMPORTANT ACTIVITIES, PROGRAMS MENTIONED—RECORDS NOTED.

The quality of programs, the variation of student activities and the interest and co-operation of the public in events of the College during the past year merits a review as the new year begins.

In the field of athletics both the football and basketball teams under coaches Iba and Davis made unusual records. The football team won the M. I. A. A. title for 1931 and established the record of being undefeated and untied through the entire season. The team had nine consecutive victories and in eight of them the opponents never scored. The Bearcats in basketball were eyed with admiration by sports fans in several states. The team was the finalist in the national A. A. U. tournament in Kansas City. It lost to the Wichita Henrys 15 to 14, the opponents making a basket in the last thirty seconds of play. The Bearcats were undefeated in the M. I. A. A. conference. In the last three years the team lost but one conference game out of forty.

Among the highlight entertainments of the year were Ted Shawn and His Dancers, James Hendrickson and Claire Bruce and Co., noted Shakespearean players; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Abbas, musical artists; DeWolf Hopper, a veteran of the American stage and his company; John A. Lomax, composer of cowboy songs.

Several distinguished speakers appeared for student assemblies and public programs. Among them were Congresswoman Ruth Bryan Owen, Dr. Burris A. Jenkins, of Kansas City; A. B. MacDonald, noted newspaperman; Arthur S. Gist, president of Humboldt State Teachers College in California; Rev. Robin Gould of Mexico, Mo., who gave the annual Armistice Day address; Dr. A. O. Thomas, secretary-general of the World Federation of Education Associations; Dr. Joel Hayden, headmaster of Western Reserve Academy, Cleveland, O.; Governor Henry S. Caulfield of Missouri.

The principal dramatic presentations of the year were the plays, "The Rose of El Monte," and "Outward Bound."

The senior class gave the Shakespearean play, "Merry Wives of Windsor."

The debate teams for both men and women, under O. C. Miller, during the season traveled 1,800 miles into seven states to meet teams in leading colleges and universities.

Earlier in the season the Maryville forensic students were hosts to fifty-four debaters from eleven schools in four states who had come here for an educational debate tournament.

In the fall quarter the annual convention of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association was held at the College and the students had the advantage of hearing many prominent speakers in the field of education, including the president of the National Education Association.

The annual High School Contests in the spring, participated in by 1,500 boys and girls from nineteen counties, gave the College and its students an opportunity to show its hospitality.

The popular students of the past year, according to the vote of the student body, were Miss Gladys Cooper of Denver, Colo., who is now in her senior year, and H. Fischer of Sedalia who graduated in the spring and who is now in full charge of the College book store.

The Student Council for 1931-32 was administered by Wilbur Stalcup, president, and Russell Noblet, vice-president.

In the field of religion the Y. W. C. A., and Y. M. C. A., have been active.

The "Y" hut in the College Park has been the center of numerous socials and programs for the women of the College. The Y. M. C. A. gospel team made trips once a month into several counties, and sponsored an International Fellowship banquet attended by 322 students and townpeople.

The College recognized the fathers and mothers of the students with days especially set aside in the fall and spring for their honor. As guests of the College and their sons and daughters they visited the campus and were entertained through the entire day.

Thousands of people came to Maryville in May to see the presentation of the annual May Fete. This year the fete was, "The Bluebird of Happiness." Miss Nell Martindale, the director, has established an enviable name for herself for her marvelous productions in this field.

The Department of Social Science, of which Dr. Henry A. Foster was chairman, undertook a wide observance of Miss Anthony was in school in Columbia University, New York City, again this last summer continuing her work toward her Ph. D. degree. Recently, Miss Anthony, who has been instrumental in bringing the Home Economics Department of the College to its present recognized position of importance, spent some time in Europe doing special work in her field. Miss Anthony and Miss Blanshan are sponsors of the Kappa Omicron Phi, National Home Economics Fraternity, which was founded on the College campus in 1922 by Miss Anthony.

the Washington bi-centennial year.

Every year the music department gives a Christmas cantata, conducted by Charles R. Gardner, head of the Conservatory of Music. Last December the cantata was, "The Coming of the King." Many teachers and students from this department have appeared in broadcasts and recitals.

Class work during the past year gave the students a chance to take several educational field trips to visit social and industrial institutions in Kansas City, St. Joseph, Leavenworth and Omaha.

Over the Library Desk

"Please return all magazines to the charging desk." So reads a notice at the book chute outside the West Library. Many magazine readers disregard this sign and send magazines down the chute along with books. The magazines are crumpled and torn and made unfit for binding for further use by other readers. Current and bound magazines form a large part of the reference material of the College Library and should be treated with the same respect as books. Bound magazines are not to be taken from the library and current numbers only after four o'clock in the afternoon, to be returned the next morning by nine o'clock.

The Library has received the September number of "Poetry, a Magazine to Verse," which was subscribed for by members of the class in Contemporary American Literature, taught by Miss Mattie Dykes in the summer term of 1932, and by members of the Writers' club.

HISTORY OF STEFFENS.

Autobiography is Interesting and Informative Says Wilbur Heekin.

The Autobiography of Lincoln Steffens published by the Literary Guild is one of the most informative and interesting books that I have read for some time. It is a rather ponderous and frightening volume but it is deceiving for the style is light, easy and swift. A considerable portion of the details of his childhood could have been omitted without damaging to any great degree whatever interest the book might hold.

The author's avowed purpose was to present "muskraaking" in newspaper writing as it was done by that school of writers of which he was a leader. His experiences while editor and writer for McClure's Magazine are sensational. There are many surprising incidents related by Steffens concerning figures who later became prominent in national life such as "Teddy" Roosevelt, Governor Cox, Governor Folk of Missouri, Senator Harry B. Hawes, Bob LaFollette and many, many others. It is a book well worth reading and I recommend that you add it to your list.

A passenger on the limited, looking under his berth in the morning, found one black shoe and one tan. He called the porter's attention to the error.

The porter scratched his head in bewilderment.

"Well, ef dat don't beat all," he said. "Dat's de second time dis mawnin' dat mistake's happened."

FOUND MANY FACES BUT ALL FRIENDLY SAYS "HUMPS"

Dropped in town Sunday and like all strangers began looking for friendly faces. Plenty of them too—on the campus or the square, female and male, for better or worse, all friendly. Always friendly faces at the opening of school. People without much to do (like me) rarely miss noticing a face. The fraternity face, sorority face, the freshman, the faculty, the important guy on the campus, (and off) each has his own particularly type visage, or "mug" if you prefer it. Meek freshman girls somewhat thrilled at being out of high school, some of them so lost that you begin to lose yourself just watching them. Meek freshman boys, not so thrilled but lost never-the-less.

Watched a couple of gentlemen referred to as "coach" put a good looking football squad through scrimmage. (A real team, all it needs is your support.) Found many of the sterner upper class faces around this group.

It is funny how high school girls will elbow into the limelight of the college group. Ambitious or pestiferous, I don't know which. Sure hate to part with my "Twenty-two fifty" don't you?

I see some Student Election notices up already. Well politics are right up my alley so to speak and I intend to enjoy the forth-coming struggle immensely. In this day of scarce money most any chap with a few dollars to spend could just about buy his way into office like they do in national politics. When you lower the gold standard you likewise lower the moral standard so why not cash in on the coming beer and anti-beer fights and vote for the rich man.

That's enough nonsense for today, too much in fact. See you in—well—not being acquainted, let's say the next issue.

Sincerely yours,

"HUMPS."

George Adams, B. S., 1931, is teaching history and coaching athletics at Redding, Ind., this year. George will be remembered as one of the recent good-looking, good-natured yell leaders for the Bearcats.

Miss Ruth Lawrence, a graduate of the College with her major work in music, is again enrolled in the College for some special work.

STROLLER

Don't be alarmed at the way Dick Barrett has been acting for the last week—The Stroller hears he has been all atwitter since a certain little Iowa girl told him he was a "honey."

The Stroller understands that Mr. Cauffield has been pretty busy since he came home from California. Some of the faculty members missed him at the faculty garden party last week and went to see about him. Mr. Cauffield had forgotten about the party and had even failed to tell his wife about it?

It seems more like College at S. T. C. with the Sigma Tau Fraternity on Fourth Street. The Stroller wishes to congratulate the boys on their recent move. The Sigma Mus' have also moved into a more thickly settled student center which adds to "the old spirit."

The Stroller understands that the price of bulletin space is going up since the time for the elections is approaching.

Dr. Mehus: "President Lamkin, I'm losing my hair and my teeth!" President Lamkin: "That's all right, just so you don't lose what is between them."

H. Fischer is not the only man around College who gets all nervous about 3:30 every afternoon when the Bearcats get out for practice, the Stroller has observed. Frank Moore one of the Bearcat centers on the Bearcat elevens for the last four years, also fumes around and gets mighty busy at his work, about this time of day.

"M" Club Meeting.
The M Club, composed of men of the College who have been awarded varsity letters in Football, Basketball, Track or Baseball, held a meeting at the gymnasium last night.

The meeting was called by Walter Dowell, vice-president last year, and was for the purpose of electing officers for the present school year. There are thirty-one 'M' men in College this Fall Quarter.

An announcement of the election results will likely be printed in the paper next week.

Addresses Forum.
A. J. Cauffield, chairman of the geography department of the College, gave an interesting address on "California," at the Men's Monday Forum luncheon, last Monday noon. Using some maps and specially prepared sketches of the famous state, Mr. Cauffield described California not in the usual way but from the point of view of the student of geography. However he didn't fail to tell some new stories about the Sunshine State, which registered with his audience.

The enrollment in the College, for this fall term, is approximately what it was last fall term which was the largest fall term enrollment in the history of the school. More than six hundred and fifty students have enrolled for work at the present time.

Craig Siegfried, a graduate of Kansas University and whose home is at Independence is enrolled in S. T. C. working for the A. B. degree with a major in physical education.

HIGH SCHOOL AT GOWER HAS NEW SCHOOL PAPERTWO INTERESTING ARTICLES BY
SUPT. SKAITH AND BILLIE COR-
INGTON ARE REPRINTED.

The September 15 number of The Gower Booster, a new three column four-page Gower high school weekly publication has just arrived at the College.

The paper carries at least two articles which may be of interest to other high school students and even to the students at M. S. T. C. One article on "School Spirit" is written by Francis L. Skaith, superintendent of schools at Gower and president of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association for this year. The other article entitled "Protecting Our Good Name," is written by the high school editor of the Booster, Billie Corington. The articles are given below:

School Spirit.
"So I'll be a BOOSTER for GOWER—Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!" How many times do you suppose that old song has been sung in the halls of G. H. S.? Doesn't it make the cold chills just run down your spine to hear the old Alma Mater Song sung? And why is this?

It is all summed up in the words SCHOOL SPIRIT. But what is this intangible thing called School Spirit. To some it is loyalty; to some it is synonymous for enthusiasm, pep, glee, and what not.

To anyone who has been in the assembly room of the high school, it is quite obvious that there is plenty of the spirit here. If you don't believe it just happen around a day or so before Gower plays Plattburg or Easton. There will be yells, songs, pep talks, and a lot of real honest enthusiasm demonstrated.

Now all of that is one way to spell school spirit. Another way is to enthusiastically support the debaters when they debate against a neighboring school. To be faithful to the dramatics group and to be with them in spirit when they attend the contests is still another way to demonstrate school spirit.

However, there is one way that best demonstrates the REAL SCHOOL SPIRIT. That way is by actually supporting the school in all activities, by coming to school well prepared in school subjects, by being courteous to teachers and fellow-students and by assisting in taking care of school property. The feeling one has for his school that causes him to refrain from carving on desks, from throwing waste paper on the grounds, from destroying any of the school equipment or from gossiping about students or teachers is summed up in the expression SCHOOL SPIRIT. Don't you think it is something desirable in all students? To get the most out of school, one must have it.

Surely none would be guilty of attending school at the expense of the State and District and be so ungrateful as not to take care of the property of the school! Let us all leave the property of Gower Schools in as good condition as we found it so that those who tread these halls after we are gone will have the advantages that have been ours. Then we can truthfully sing—"I'll be a BOOSTER for GOWER."

Yours for SCHOOL SPIRIT,
F. L. Skaith,
Superintendent of Schools.

Protecting Our Good Name.
Don't you love good old Gower High School? Then, help to protect her name. Our school, now has a good name, but like all other good things it can be easily lost. Let us help to make Gower High School mean more to the community rather than less. The way to do this isn't hard and we owe it to her.

Let us practice doing right the little insignificant things by which others judge us. Most of our erring is just carelessness with no harm meant, but it looks bad and if established as habit detracts greatly from other's estimation of us and from our own self respect. For instance, let us take this idea of walking down the rock road. At the present it is miraculous that no one has been injured. Such an accident would be greatly regretted as well as harmful to our good name. To avoid this we should keep off the pavement or walk not more than two abreast. This will make for safety for both drivers and pedestrians.

There are many other little ways in which each of us may help. Let's all work together to keep our yards and buildings clean, observe the rules and keep up our good name.

Judge Not

Pray don't find fault with the man who limps

Or stumbles along the road,

Unless you have worn the shoes he wears

Or struggled beneath his load.

There may be tacks in shoes that hurt,

Though hidden away from view,

Or the burden he bears, placed on your back,

Might cause you to stumble too.

Don't sneer at the man who's down today,

Unless you have felt the blow

That caused his fall, or felt the same

That only the fallen know.

You may be strong, but still the blows

That were his, if dealt to you

In the self-same way at the self-same time,

Might cause you to stagger too.

Don't be too harsh with the man who sins

Or pelt him with words or stones,

Unless you are sure, yea, doubly sure,

That you have no sins of your own.

For you know, perhaps, if the tempter's voice

Should whisper as soft to you

As it did to him when he went astray,

Twould cause you to falter too.
